WRIT PETITION No. 19663 OF 2005

ORDER : (Per Hon'ble Sri Bilal Nazki, ACJ)

The learned counsel for petitioner submits that the detenus were released after notice was issued in the present case, whereas, the case of the respondents is that the alleged detenus were never arrested after they were released on bail earlier. This statement is disputed by the petitioner. Since the detenus have already been released, the writ petition has become infructuous and it is accordingly dismissed. However, if the petitioner is aggrieved of the alleged detention of the detenus, he is at liberty to take recourse to remedies available in law. No order as to costs.
